Status Update

The NEW Ruschlikon eDeployment Guide for eAccounting & Claims is out

The aim of the Ruschlikon eDeployment Guide is to inform industry partners of the steps required to prepare for a successful roll out with eMessaging using the ACORD GRLC Data and process standards. The guide has been specially created for prospective Ruschlikon industry partners.

It covers the following aspects:

- eMessaging – Where to start
- Ruschlikon/ACORD GRLC – Message types and process flows
- Technical connectivity
- Steps towards a successful eDeployment

All chapters contain useful information and links to the topic related material available on the Ruschlikon website. It also suggests when to best reach out to your vendor and/or industry partner(s) and indicates where you can find their contact details.

📗 Best Practice Guide (eAccounting and Claims)

The UPDATED Ruschlikon Best Practice Guide for eAccounting & Claims is at your disposal

The purpose of this Global (Re)insurance Best Practice guide is to provide overall direction to cedents, brokers and (re)insurers on how to implement ACORD Global Reinsurance and Large Commercial (GRLC) XML messages globally. The document currently covers administration processes relating to claims, accounting and settlement.

The Ruschlikon Best Practice guide has been established by the Ruschlikon community, summarizing recommendations and key learnings to make future implementations as seamless as possible, allowing all involved parties to realize tangible benefits as quickly as possible. Links to relevant supporting documentation are provided.

The Global (Re)insurance Best Practice guide for eAccounting & Claims is not intended to replace the ACORD's Electronic Back Office Transactions (EBOT) and Electronic Claims Office Transactions (ECOT) Quick Reference Guides but provides additional business related information and guidance.

You will find the document on the Ruschlikon website here: https://bit.ly/4culNse.
