

The backbone of automation - speaking one language

Status Update

ACORD GRLC Online Data Dictionary available

The Ruschlikon initiative aims to connect the whole (re)insurance industry using the ACORD Global Reinsurance and Large Commercial (GRLC) Standard. This means a common language and compatible processes in risk placing, claims handling, technical accounting, and financial handling.

Check out the recently published ACORD GRLC online data dictionary. It provides detailed definitions, type, formatting, code lists, and code value details, all within a user-friendly application interface. ACORD GRLC members can access the ACORD GRLC Online Data Dictionary to leverage the latest updates, providing the following benefits:

- Single source of information on ACORD GRLC Standard reference data
- No more downloads of reference data files with this online version – latest data sets at hand
- Fuzzy text search for attributes on attribute name, attribute number, code list and data group is provided that assists in finding relevant data

It can be found at ACORD Standards Online, ACORD's one-stop virtual portal for digital, interactive ACORD Standards resources. This space will see further enhancements in 2025 to serve as a unified standards hub.
